SCHLEY HAS AN INNING

ASKED AS TO ADMIRAL'S BEARING

During the Conflict, He Said "He Was as Self-Possessed as It Was Possible For Anybody to Be In Like Situation."

Washington, Oct. 3.—Lieutenant Doyle resumed his testimony, begun Wednesday. He was examined by Mr. Rayner. He continued in reply to questions to give a narrative of the campaign. Mr. Rayner asked whether the Brooklyn had engaged in any bombardments during the month of June, 1898, but Judge Advocate Lemly and Mr. Hanna objected on the ground that the question was similar to the question asked Wednesday concerning the blockade after the arrival of Admiral Sampson.

Mr. Rayner said that his purpose was to only show what the Brooklyn had done and that it did not in any way concern what the New York had done. His purpose, he said, was to show what had been done toward developing the strength of the shore batteries.

"I know what the ruling of the court means," he said, "and bow respectfully to it."

Admiral Dewey said that if the question was confined to the Brooklyn there could be no objection.

The question was then asked as to what the Brooklyn learned concerning the shore batteries as a result of any bombardments in which she had participated in June.

Before a reply could be given the court retired for consultation. At the conclusion of the conference Mr. Rayner changed his question so as to read as follows:

"What do you know from your own observation in reference to the strength of the shore batteries and the guns. I want the result of your observation at Santiago acquired by you at any time without going into any general or specific details as to the bombardments."

Replying Lieutenant Doyle said that at the bombardment which had taken place June 6 the Zocopa battery had replied at first very spiritedly, but that "it soon went out of business." After the ships withdrew, the enemy had again manned their guns and then shot at the ships. On the occasion of the second bombardment they did not remain so long. "They always took a snapshot at us as we left," he said.

Mr. Rayner then asked Lieutenant Doyle how often he had seen Commodore Schley under fire during the Santiago campaign. "Every time we were under fire," he replied, "during those bombardments and in that battle of July 3."

"What was his conduct? I refer you to the first specification of the precept, 'his conduct in connection with the events of the Santiago campaign,' and what was his conduct and bearing at any time either during the bombardments or during the battle of July 3, when his ship was under fire?"

"I did not have an opportunity, as the commodore was always near about the conning tower, to observe his conduct during the battle, but immediately previous and after I did have an opportunity to do so, he always struck me as being just about as well possessed as it was possible for anybody to be under those circumstances."

Captain Lemly Objects.

Mr. Rayner then asked the witness whether on July 2, 1898, he had observed smoke coming from Santiago harbor over Zocopa hill. Captain Lemly objected and Mr. Rayner said that his purpose was to prove that it was believed at that time that the Spaniards were preparing to withdraw from the harbor and that Commodore Schley had communicated the facts to the squadron. It was competent, he said, to prove the conduct of the commodore under the department's precept.

Captain Lemly and Mr. Hanna contended that the certain effect of such questions would be to open the gates for interminable inquiry and that if one side should enter upon such questions, the other must also be allowed to do so. They did object for the reason of the time involved.

Captain Parker announced his willingness to "open the door wide." He wanted the entire matter investigated and would have the searchlight turned upon every individual from the commander-in-chief to the lowest officer under him.

Mr. Rayner was then permitted to ask his question, which he did in the following words: "When was the smoke observed on July 2 by Commodore Schley, communicated to the squadron?"

Reply was: "Smoke was observed rising in the harbor on July 2, and my impression now is, and always has been since that night, that that information was conveyed to the commander-in-chief."

The witness was then requested to give a brief account of the part taken by the Brooklyn in the battle of July 3, which he did repeating much that he had said Wednesday.

In response to Mr. Hanna's questions, Lieutenant Doyle said that upon approaching Santiago on the evening of May 28, the squadron had lain to for the night about seven miles off Santiago, but he thought that the Marblehead and Vixen had been placed on picket duty for the night. However, he showed no record of this latter fact. Mr. Hanna then cross-examined the witness regarding his testimony bearing upon the battle off Santiago, asking first as to the direction in which the Spanish ships were headed as they came out of the mouth of the harbor. "They were coming right toward us," the witness replied, "in column of vessels almost in line, a little on our starboard bow. They had not then begun to turn."

"Were they firing at you?" asked Mr. Hanna. "They were certainly firing in our direction," was the response. The witness said that after that the firing was on both sides of bows of the enemy's vessels.

"How sure?" asked Mr. Hanna, "do you feel of your recollection as to the way they were headed at that time?"

"That is one of the things that most firmly impressed itself on my mind," replied the witness. Lieutenant Doyle said that he had made his observations of that battle through the peephole from the sliding head, and again related how the enemy had been cut off from his vision by the smoke of one of the Brooklyn's big guns. The cross-examination upon these incidents was in progress when the court took its recess for luncheon.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session of the Schley court began with inquiries concerning the wigwag signal to the Oregon from the Brooklyn to fire her 13-inch gun. The witness said he was sure that he had seen the signal made, but that he was unable to find an entry of the signal in the ship's log. Reading the log he found a notation of several signals and then a note saying that "other important signals had been made."

Mr. Hanna inquired whether the witness thought the signal to the Oregon was included in that list. Lieutenant Doyle replied that it might be, but he could not say how the log writer had regarded the matter. Testifying concerning the events of July 3, Lieutenant Doyle stated that at 9:30 of that date the Brooklyn had been 6,300 yards from the Morro, 300 yards farther out than the position assigned. He thought that the Brooklyn's first shot had been fired four or five minutes after she began to move into action.

Mr. Hanna—You have spoken of the appearance of smoke in the harbor and of the action taken by the Brooklyn with respect thereto; was any entry made in the log of the occurrence? "I find none. The only thing I find in relation to that is the entry about several burning blockhouses being visible on the high point to the westward."

"Do you think that relates to the appearance of smoke?" "No; that had nothing to do with it, because the blockhouses were away off to the westward."

Captain Lemly asked what efforts had been made by the flying squadron to discover the whereabouts of the Spanish fleet, while the squadron lay off Cienfuegos before the arrival of Captain McCaughan. He replied that there had been no effort except in making inquiries of the captain of the British vessel Adula.

Injunction Made Permanent.

Indianapolis, Oct. 3.—Judge Baker in the United States circuit court passed on the case of the W. B. Conkey Printing company of Hammond, Ind. The temporary restraining order entered by the court some weeks ago was made permanent, the strikers being enjoined from interfering with the Conkey workmen in the discharge of their duties or in seeking employment.

Surprises at Napoleon.

Napoleon, O., Oct. 3.—The moral side of Napoleon has been investigated this week by the grand jury. Five of the principal saloonkeepers have been indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, and the managers of two disreputable houses have been indicted for running the same and for selling liquor. More surprises are looked for before the end of the week.

Steamer Breaks Down.

Sandy Hook, Oct. 3.—Just as she was entering Gedney's channel at 3 p.m. the steamer La Grande Duchesse broke down and began to drift to sea. She has about 2,000 excursionists on board. The ebb tide was drifting her rapidly to the eastward at 3:30. She flew the Larchmont Yacht club emblem, many of its members being on board.

BLOOD STIRRING RACE

BUT THE COLUMBIA FINISHES FIRST.

The Wind Blew as If Made to Order For a Fair Test of Sailing Qualities of British and American Boats.

New York, Oct. 3.—After crossing both yachts went on a close reach for the first mark, fairly tearing through the water and throwing great fountains of spray from under their bows.

The official time of crossing the line was: Shamrock 11:00:13; Columbia 11:01:47.

It was a magnificent and blood-stirring race to the first mark. The pace was terrific, and it was impossible to determine when half the first leg had been sailed whether or not the Shamrock was maintaining the lead she gained when they crossed the line. Both were carrying the same sails. Every yard of the canvas piled above the flying hulls of the racers was as hard as a board. The crews were lined under the windward, while off to leeward the spray from under the bows of the yachts was swept in clouds by the increasing winds.

They lifted the first turn as though the stakeboat itself was coming to meet them, the Shamrock still holding her big lead. Shamrock turned the first mark unofficial time 11:50:55, and going stretched out for time to reach the second mark. The Columbia followed her around 1 minute 25 seconds later and based on unofficial figures it seemed that she had gained nine seconds on the first leg. Both swept away on the starboard tack, Shamrock leading by about one-third of a mile. At any rate she was safe within the time allowance and as they neared the second mark it was evident that if she was not gaining she was easily holding her own. Still scudding in the strong wind, the big white racers fetched the second mark, Shamrock rounding it first and with flattening sheets she held toward the Jersey shore on the starboard tack for about an eighth of a mile. The Columbia, however, luffed around the mark and stood off on the port tack. As soon as the Columbia had rounded the Shamrock also went on the port tack and in this position the yachts stood nearly due north for more than 20 minutes. It was the first wind work of the race and the result of the contest depended upon the respective merits of the two boats in the thrash to windward toward the finish line.

At 1:06 both yachts went about on the starboard tack and stood for the Jersey shore, the Columbia tacking first. It was nip and tuck for the next 20 minutes or more until about 1:20, when both boats went about on the port tack and it was seen the defender had eaten up on her rival and had taken the lead. She had outpointed the Shamrock and secured a commanding position on the latter's bow. All during this tack Captain Barr played his old game of continually pinching into the wind. The Shamrock's failure to point as high was a surprise to the experts in view of the good qualities she showed in this respect on Saturday last.

Both yachts held the port tack heading almost north toward the Long Island shore and it looked as if they meant to hold it until they are sure of fetching the mark on the next tack. As they worked up the wind, the glimmering bronze hull of the British boat was getting further and further to leeward and astern and the American had a lead which hardly a fast steamboat could have cut down in the short stretch of water which lay between her and the finish. The excursion fleet at this time were strung out in a long scattering line to windward of the course and doing their best to keep up with the racers.

At 1:57 p.m. both yachts went about on the starboard tack, and headed for the finish, Columbia having a safe lead of about a quarter of a mile. The race was over then. Nothing could beat her. With every inch of her beautiful sails drawing, the spray flying from under her bow, the great white American yacht crossed the line nearly two minutes ahead of the boat flying the Shamrock.

The official corrected time was: Shamrock 3:16:10; Columbia 3:12:35.

Episcopal Conference Organized.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—The triennial convention of the Episcopal church of America was formally organized by the election of Bishop Fowler of Kentucky as president and Roy S. Hart of Kansas City, secretary of the house of bishops; Dr. John S. Lindsay of Massachusetts, president; Rev. Charles Hutchins, secretary, of the house of deputies.

BEVERIDGE TALKS.

Eastern Open-Door Problem Must Be Solved by United States.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 3.—"American commerce with the Orient must in time take the first place, because we are nearer the Orient than is any other nation." Senator Beveridge of Indiana, who arrived late Wednesday from six months' trip, nearly all of which was devoted to Manchuria, China and the Philippines, a trip made for the purpose of acquiring greater familiarity with the latest phases of the complex Oriental question, made the above statement.

Senator Beveridge had little to say concerning Marquis Ito, who accompanied him. "Marquis Ito," said he, "is the first man of the Orient. He is the founder of the constitutional government in Japan."

Further than this, Senator Beveridge declined to engage in conversation concerning the Japanese statesman's supposed conversation with him on the long voyage. On the voyage across the Pacific they were constantly together. Senator Beveridge hesitated to speak of the western question in an interview. "To speak," said he, "with any intelligence of the far eastern question, so vast and important, seems difficult and almost impossible in the discursive methods of an interview. It is a question of paramount importance to us because our markets are involved. To the Orient the great northwest must look for greater prosperity. It is the Orient which must relieve the country of the whole of its surplus. I do not presume to doubt that the isthmian canal will be built. This will make American trade with the entire Orient in course of time the largest of any nation. But whether this canal is built or not, American commerce with the Orient must in time take the first place because we are nearer the Orient than is any other nation. All this is on the assumption that the ports of the Orient will be kept open to American goods. To keep them open and increase the markets which those ports supply is the problem in the great and vexed and complicated eastern question. They will not remain open of their own accord."

BOTH VESSELS LOST

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 3.—The Northern Wave arrived here with part of crews of the steamer Drake and the schooner Michigan, which foundered off Vermillion Point. When about 15 miles off Vermillion Point, with a 55 mile gale blowing and in a heavy rain and snow storm, the Michigan, in tow of the Drake, began to fill. The Michigan was abandoned, her crew being taken aboard the Drake. While the Drake was rescuing Michigan's crew the two boats came together, the Drake losing her smokestack and having her decks and cabin stove in. Little headway could be made by the Drake and her cabin was cut up for fuel. Owing to heavy weather and damages sustained by her contact with the Michigan, she began to fill, and was flying signals of distress when sighted by the Northern Wave. The balance of the crew were later picked up by the Crescent City.

Four Drowned.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 3.—William Hiltz, Richard Waldron, Edward Culbert and Joseph C. Wilkins were drowned in Bering sea, near Port Safety, early in August. Meager details of their fate were brought by Nome passengers of the steamship Queen. Wilkins is supposed to have been a resident of the state of New York.

Taxable Value of Whisky.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 3.—The state board of valuation and assessment fixed the value of Kentucky whisky for the purpose of taxation at $10 per barrel for 1901. This is an increase of $2 over 1900. It affects all whisky held in bond in this state. The distillers will ask for reconsideration of the action.

Miss Long's Condition.

Hingham, Mass., Oct. 3.—The condition of Miss Helen Long, daughter of Secretary John D. Long, who is suffering from lung trouble, still continues unfavorable. A telegram has been sent to the secretary to this effect. Miss Long only a week ago returned home from Colorado.

Fatal Blast.

Petersburg, Ind., Oct. 3.—John McCoy and Henry Darnell, while blasting, were fatally injured by the premature explosion of dynamite late Wednesday. McCoy's leg was blown off and he was badly burned. Darnell had his side and limbs badly injured.

Strike Settled.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—The teamsters and longshoremen's strike, which has been on for the past 10 weeks, was settled. The terms of the settlement have not been made public.

COMPILY PROVEN.

Macedonian Committee Implicated In Kidnapping of Miss Stone.

BULGARIAN GOVERNMENT ACTIVE.

United States Consul General Dickinson Starts For Sofia to Urge the Authorities to Make Vigorous Efforts.

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—American representatives have secured evidence proving the complicity of members of the Macedonian committee at Sofia in the kidnapping of the American missionary, Miss Helen H. Stone, and her companion, Madame Tsilka, and the assurances given by the Bulgarian government relative to the measures to be taken against the abductors show that the gravity of the affair is appreciated at Sofia.

The departure of the United States consul general at Constantinople, C. M. Dickinson, for the Bulgarian capital is expected to result in increased activity.

Well informed people in Constantinople doubt that the release of Miss Stone and her companion will be effected by the payment of a ransom. The Ottoman government would have difficulty in finding the amount demanded, while the missionaries point out that the American board of foreign missions has made a practice of refusing to pay ransoms, on the ground that it would create a precedent and be fatal to mission enterprises elsewhere.

Conferred With President.

Washington, Oct. 3.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and Ralph M. Eastly, secretary of the National Civic Federation, had a conference with President Roosevelt. They presented several matters for his consideration. One of these was the Chinese exclusion act, which terminates by limitation in March, 1902. The labor interests, it appears, desire the exclusion act renewed, and asked President Roosevelt for his aid in this direction. The president was likewise asked to say something in his message recommending favorable action on the eight hour proposition that has been pending in congress for several years. On both of these questions Mr. Gompers was requested to submit a brief, giving the position of the labor interests and all the facts that labor leaders desire laid before the president.

Fight to a Finish.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 3.—The Scranton railway strike is now a fight to a finish. After a long conference with the executive committee of the strikers, General Manager Silliman and Vice President Clark of Philadelphia announced that the discharged men would not be reinstated under any circumstances, nor would any old men be re-employed who did not report for duty before noon Friday. The strikers are in session, but they are determined not to give in. The officials say they will arrange at once for other men to take the strikers' places.

Overloaded Car Causes Wreck.

Berne Falls, Mich., Oct. 3.—Four men were injured, one fatally, in a wreck on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad at McManus siding three miles east of Berne Falls. The names are: James Conlon, Canisteo, N. Y.; Jay Phillips, Buffalo, N. Y.; Ernest Baker, Cleveland; Urban Blood, Traverse City, Mich. An unknown man was fatally injured. The wreck was caused by the bursting of an overloaded car of lumber on which the men were stealing a ride.

German Tariff.

Munich, Bavaria, Oct. 3.—In the chamber of deputies the premier, Baron Von Crailsheim, informed the Centrists that Bavaria would support the considerably increased protection of agricultural products provided for in the new tariff bill, but considered that the increase should be determined by consideration for the consumer as well as the possibility of concluding commercial treaties for long periods.

English Tobacco Combine.

London, Oct. 3.—It is said the Messrs. Wills, Lambert & Butler, Player, the Hignettts and others, including almost all the leading British tobacco manufacturers

EVENING BULLETIN.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1901.

PREMATURE AWARDS.

A private letter from a prominent member of the Ohio bar directs our attention to the following extract from the appendix to the Richardson edition of the "Presidents' messages." This was written before the official assaults upon Commodore Schley began:

"The Spanish fleet attempting to escape from Santiago Harbor, Cuba, destroyed by American squadron under direction of Winfield S. Schley." Sampson not mentioned. Again Appendix Vol. 16 page 581. "Rear Admiral Sampson being about seven miles from the scene of battle, the command of the American vessels during the engagement devolved upon Commander Schley, and under his directions the squadron closed in on the fleeing vessels, and in about two hours the entire Spanish fleet was destroyed. The Spanish losses were 600 killed and about 1400 prisoners, including the Admiral. The loss on the American side was one killed and one wounded, while not a vessel was materially damaged."

The first mention of Sampson is in President McKinley's message of December 5th, 1898, vol. 10, page 170, where he says "the Spanish fleet was met by Commodore Sampson and destroyed." Schley is ignored; not even mentioned, while all the honors are showered upon Sampson, including the degree of L. L. D. from Yale—apparently meaning in this instance, not Doctor of Laws, but Doctor of Logs.

The revelations of that official "appendix" are simply startling, and the committee on "naval affairs" ought to have it removed at once.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES.

Congressional Race a Year Off, But Aspirants Are Already Laying Their Plans.

[Courier-Journal.]

GREENUP, Ky., Oct. 1.—It is fully a year before a successor to Congressman Kehoe will be nominated, but already several men are in the field for the Republican nomination.

County Judge J. B. Bennett, of this county, has long been credited with Congressional aspirations and his friends say he has pledges of support from men all over the district. He was Chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee last year, and is also a member of the State Committee, which has given him an acquaintance over the district that will be of value to him. R. C. Burns, of Boyd County, is another aspirant. He was a candidate for the judgeship of the Court of Appeals last year, but was beaten for the nomination by Judge Ed. C. O'Rear. Mason County will present a candidate in the person of State Senator William H. Cox. He is popular and a strong man.

It is not known whether former Congressman Pugh will again be a candidate, but it is generally believed that he will not, but will throw his strength to Judge J. B. Bennett.

River News.

The M. P. Wells, on the Covington docks, will receive nearly a new hull and much other work before she will be ready for work.

The Cairo towboat Gleaner was sold this week to the People's Coal Company of Pittsburg and will be taken to Pittsburg next week.

Baylor Spratt, engineer of the Sun-shine, arrested recently for making the safety valve fast, was bound over to the U. S. grand jury by Commissioner Adler. Thomas Daniel, a colored deckhand, in endeavoring to protect Spratt incriminated himself, and was lodged in jail. He said he placed picks on the valve so as to prevent the escape of steam in order to "keep the place cool."

THE VICROY-MORAN CASE.

Latter's Wounds Not as Dangerous as First Reported—His Account of the Shooting.

Later information from ex-Constable W. L. Moran, who was shot by Squire Wesley Vicroy Thursday morning, is that he is not so dangerously wounded as first reported. Only three shot penetrated the right lung, the rest of the charge striking him in the shoulder.

His physician, Dr. Reed, thinks he will recover.

Mr. Moran's account of the trouble is entirely different from Mr. Vicroy's. He says he never saw Vicroy when the shot was fired, and that no words had passed between them.

Board of Trade.

A meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade will be held to-night at rooms in Cox Building. Let all be present.

SCARLET FEVER.

Circular Issued by the State Board of Health Regarding the Prevention of This Disease.

To the Health Officials, Physicians and People of Kentucky: Scarlet fever, scarlatina and scarlet rash are different names for one and the same disease. It is an infectious and dangerous disease, and the mildest case may spread the infection and cause the most malignant cases.

Scarlet fever is essentially a disease of childhood, and always results from infection from a pre-existing case. Countries have been free from it for centuries till imported by commerce and trade. Owing to its frequency and fatality, it is of far more importance to the people of Kentucky than smallpox, cholera or yellow fever. In view of these facts, the great importance of prompt isolation and thorough disinfection to prevent the spread of the disease are beyond question.

The following rules have been prepared with care and should be disseminated and, as occasion requires, observed by all interested in the welfare of children:

1. When a child has sore throat and fever, and especially when scarlet fever is in the neighborhood, it should be immediately separated from others until a competent physician has seen it and fully determined that it is not affected with a contagious disease.

2. If scarlet fever, maintain strict isolation, in an upstairs room, if possible, however mild the case may be, until the shedding of the skin is complete and all branny scales disappear, and afterwards, until the patient has been thoroughly bathed and clad in garments which have not been in the sick room during the illness. In giving the disinfecting bath the hairy scalp should receive special attention.

3. Placard the house, and keep all children, all having the care of children, and all going where children are, away from it. It should be borne in mind that the poison of scarlet fever surpasses that of any other eruptive disease, except smallpox, in its tenacious attachment to clothing and other objects, and in its portability to other houses or even to distant localities.

4. Burn all discharges from the mouth and nose, and disinfect all other discharges from the patient. Burn all refuse from the sick room. All spoons, cups, glasses, &c., used in the sick room should be washed separate from other dishes, and should remain some time in boiling water.

5. Disinfect all bed and body clothing, and everything else used in the sick room, before removing it therefrom, by immersion for six hours in a solution of chloride of lime, four ounces to the gallon of water. They may then be wrung out and put into the wash. Remember, however, that no disinfectant in the occupied sick room can do away with the necessity for abundant fresh air and sunlight.

6. After complete recovery, or death, carefully and thoroughly disinfect the room and its contents. To do this stop all apertures well, dampen the floor and bedding, and use nascent formaldehyde, or burn three pounds of sulphur, dampened with alcohol, for each 1,000 cubic feet of space, leaving the room closed for at least twelve hours. Afterwards the room should be thoroughly ventilated, and all ledges, woodwork and walls washed with strong soap, and rinsed with the disinfecting solution. This work should be done thoroughly, otherwise it will give only a false sense of security.

7. In case of death the body should be wrapped in a sheet saturated in disinfecting solution and buried as soon as practicable, without public funeral service. Newspapers, in giving notice of death, should state that it was from scarlet fever, and that children, and persons having the care of children, should not attend.

8. The law requires that all cases of contagious disease shall be reported to the city or county Board of Health, by the head of the family or physician, within twenty-four hours. This law should be observed in every case.

By order of the board.

J. M. MATHEWS, M. D., President.

J. N. McCormack, M. D., Secretary.

MRS. SARAH A. SIDWELL,

Mother of Mrs. John L. Chamberlain and Mrs. Walter Sherwood, of This City, Passed Away Thursday Afternoon.

Mrs. Sarah A. Sidwell, wife of Mr. John B. Sidwell, died Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the family residence near Tuckahoe, of asthma, complicated with other troubles. She had been a sufferer for fifteen years, and had lingered the past week or so in a critical condition.

Mrs. Sidwell was a Miss Holton and was about fifty-six years of age. She belonged to one of the old and highly respected families of the county, and was esteemed by all who knew her for her many Christian virtues. Her husband, who is one of Tuckahoe's prominent and successful farmers, survives her, and she leaves seven children.—Mrs. John L. Chamberlain and Mrs. Walter Sherwood, of this city, Miss Mattie, William, Nathan, Holton and Leslie.

The funeral arrangements will be announced to-morrow. The service will take place Sunday morning.

James Brown, who was struck by the C. O. yard engine a week or two ago while sitting on the track near the coal elevators, has brought suit against the company for $1,850. C. Burgess Taylor is his attorney.

A reunion of former Kentuckians now living in Vernon County, Mo., was held at Nevada, the county seat, Thursday. Mr. W. W. Holton, for years a resident of Maysville, is President and delivered the opening address. Ex-Governor Crittenden and Ex-Governor Stone delivered the principal addresses.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

ORANGEBURG, Oct. 2nd.—Grant Wilson and son, Duke, have returned from Cincinnati. Miss Martha Best has gone on a visit to Foxport.

Tobacco is about all housed and is a very fair crop, considering the season.

The wigwamed corn now dots the fields.

Its stately columns to the corn knife yields.

Some of the tobacco is said to be rotting in the barns.

Will Kennan is the Democratic candidate for School Trustee to fill out Robert Bullock's unexpired term.

Charles Calvert is in the field as an independent candidate for Magistrate, and has a strong petition containing a long list of names, backing him up in his aspirations.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Calvert formed a theatre party and visited Maysville last Thursday evening.

Al. Coryell's little three-year-old son, while standing at a window, had his arm badly bruised by the sash falling on it.

Ed. and Lem Stevens are still absent at Sciotoville, O. They are "baching" and having lots of fun, with a little work thrown in occasionally.

There was a very heavy fog at this place Tuesday morning, lasting till nearly noon, and in dissolving was similar to a light shower of rain.

In Cincinnati exclusive feminine parties are called "Kaffee Klatches," German term which in English means coffee and small talks. A most successful party of this kind, called a dining, was given Wednesday, September 25th, at Mrs. John Pollitt's. Those present were Mrs. L. M. Collis and daughter, Lou, Mrs. James Beckett, Mrs. Howard Taylor, Mrs. Amanda Calvert and daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. Best, Mrs. Ella Cooper, Mrs. Fanny Bullock, Mrs. Ab. Bramel and daughter, Ella Hord. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Ab. Bramel hasn't got done laughing yet about an accident that recently happened to a concealed young rooster of his flock. This rooster is a Shanghai and the dandy of the farm-yard. He strutted and crowed and crowed and strutted. He would bristle up and yell defiance at a cheerfully crowing brother half a mile away. He seemed a favorite with many of the hens, especially the giddy young pullets, and hence was not very popular with the sedate and dignified roosters. But pride must have a fall, and his time came to take a tumble. A tin slop-bucket containing about two gallons was hung on a hook alongside the summer kitchen to keep the little chickens from being drowned therein and older ones from abstracting the solid parts of the hog's menu. Mr. Shanghai flew up and perched himself on the rim one day, and while critically picking out and devouring the tidbits therein, became overbalanced and plunged headlong into the receptacle for solid and fluid kitchen offal. It was awful, so it was, and after giving a smothered squawk and two or three kicks he would have perished had not one of the folks seen his predicament and pulled him out. But a wonderful change has come over him since his bath. He sits moping in corners, pays no attention to the blandishments of the feathered feminines, and there isn't a strut or crow in him.

Constable Gus Tolle has a turkey hen which is foraging around with four turkeys of tender age, the result of a late setting. While going out the pike last Sunday near his residence Gus heard a commotion over in the weeds near the fence, and on investigating found the old turkey hen bravely defending her frightened brood from the attacks of a large hawk. They were in a death grapple, but as Gus approached, the hen, realizing that help had arrived, let go while the hawk started to seize one of the young ones which were cowering in a frightened heap near by. As the hawk had not noticed Gus he concluded to pay him a little attention, which he did, paralyzing his spine with a well-directed blow of a big flat rock. The hawk, although badly crippled, was full of fight yet, and while trying to bite Gus, was killed by having his head crushed by a stamp of the latter's foot. Gus says he hopes the turkey hen won't tell away her chicks and have another finish with a hawk, as he might not be there to decide in favor of the defendant.

PLUMVILLE, Oct. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bean visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, in Fleming County recently.

Robert Lee Mattingly, of this place, and Miss Lydia Story, of Lewis, were married at home of the bride September 25th.

Mrs. Julia Bean was bridling her horse where it was eating Monday and it bit her on her face, breaking one of her teeth out and otherwise lacerated her.

Mrs. William Whaley, of Maysville, who is seriously ill with consumption at the home of her mother, Mrs. Bean, is reported much worse.

The C. W. B. M. of the Christian Church will meet to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock with Miss Sallie S. Wood of Forest avenue.

About 200 delegates are attending the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, at Shelbyville. Bishop Hargrove presides, and Rev. F. S. Pollitt is Secretary.

As cool weather comes on we are reminded of the many horrible accidents, often deaths, which result from children and sometimes grown people, having their clothes catch fire from open grates. There is no safer protection from such disaster than to provide your fire-places with wire guards. Besides being ornamental, they are very inexpensive, and no family ought to be without them. The Frank Owens Hardware Company carry all sizes in stock and can fit any fireplace.

A NEW BOOK BY G. B. McCUTCHEON,

GRAU STARK

The story of a love behind a throne. The greatest novel of the twentieth century. The Chicago Tribune says:

Lovers of a good, rushing novel, with abundance of thrill and dash in it, can turn with confidence to "GRAU STARK" and having taken up the book it is safe to say the reader will not lay it down until it is finished, for the story is one that interests from the first with an interest that does not lessen or lapse anywhere through the book, and the reader once under the spell is not apt to wish to escape until he knows "how it all comes out." The tale is undeniably entertaining, is told with fine rapidity and the characters live and act untimely.

MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

There will be a meeting at the court house next Monday at 2 p. m. of property owners interested in the organization of a mutual co-operative fire insurance company to do business in Maysville and the towns of Mason County only.

It is intended to organize a company along the lines of the present Farmers Mutual which has done business in this county for the past twenty years or so, to the entire satisfaction of its members.

G. W. Rogers & Co., No. 127 Market street, Maysville, is the place to get pure, straight two-stamp "guaranteed" whiskies, brandies and gins, California wines &c. No spirits or rectified goods sold. Best $2 whisky on earth.

TOBACCO FACTORY.

Getting the Machinery Ready For Shipment—It Will Be Operated in Limestone Mill Building.

It was announced a few months ago that definite arrangements had been made for bringing a tobacco factory to Maysville. Only meager particulars were then given, however, as the company did not want the contemplated move to become generally known until all the details were settled. This week's developments permit the facts to be given in full.

The company referred to is the Green River Tobacco Company that has been operating a factory at Owensboro several years. Burley tobacco is a big item in their output, and the move to Maysville is to get in the heart of the white burley district.

The members of the company are among Owensboro's leading business men, and their move to Maysville has been contemplated for some time. Their attention was called to the advantages Maysville offered as a location for a tobacco factory through an advertisement of the Board of Trade, and it was through the Board that the negotiations were first opened.

The company expected to have had the factory in operation here ere this, but the move was delayed so the company could accumulate enough of their output to fill orders while the transfer was being made, but they have been unable to supply the demand, and decided to wait no longer. The machinery is now being got in readiness for shipment to Maysville.

The new factory will be operated in the Limestone mill property in the Fifth ward, and the work of moving out the flour machinery is in progress.

A special from Owensboro says: "W. E. Royster will continue as superintendent and E. W. Smith as general manager. One feature of the business will be the buying of burley direct from the farmers."

The company enjoys a large and growing trade in the Southwest and West, and there is no reason why the factory should not develop into one of the largest in the country. Certainly no other city in the country possesses the advantages Maysville offers for such an enterprise.

C. W. Williams, W. E. Pogue and George Bishop have been appointed to appraise the personality of the late James Alexander.

Unlike most of the farcical comedies with which the public have been sufficed during the past few years, "Casey's Wife" has a distinct plot and the story is divertingly told. Casey himself is an Irishman of the good old type, while Casey's wife is an Israelite. The action of the play takes place down in the Cherry Hill district and at Bath Beach, L. I. The company engaged to interpret the piece is said to be one of the strongest combinations of farcical comedians that have traveled together in many years.

At opera house to-night. Tickets on sale at Nelson's.

BADLY WOUNDED.

John Osborne, aged about fifty-five, and living on a small farm at the mouth of Beasley Creek, near South Ripley, was cut and seriously wounded Thursday afternoon by ex-Policeman W. A. Stockdale.

The parties were standing in the front room of Brisbois' saloon on Market street, and according to those present no words had passed between the two. They say Stockdale suddenly began slashing Osborne and before they could separate the two, Osborne had received a bad cut in the left side of the neck and on the left shoulder. His nose was also broken in the mix-up. The cut in the neck narrowly missed the jugular.

The injured man bled profusely. He was removed to Dr. Taulbee's office where his wounds were dressed and later he was taken home by Policeman Tolle. A report reached Maysville this morning that Osborne was dead, but one of his neighbors who was in town had heard nothing about it when he left home.

The case will be investigated in Squire Grant's court.
